Tips for Reading

General Strategies

- Manage your time so that you complete all sections of the test.
- Read the questions first. This will help you predict what the reading selections is going to be about.
- Skim the selection and then read it closely.
- Underline or highlight important information and ideas as you read.
- As you read, think about what you are reading and ask yourself questions about it.
- Try to "see" what you are reading; some readers say this is like running a video or movie in their heads.
- Look for links between what you are reading and experiences you have had.
- If you read a word you don't understand, look for a root word that you know inside the larger word; look for prefixes and suffixes.
- If you still don't understand the word, read to the end of the sentence and look for clues to its meaning. Try reading the sentences before and after the sentence to see if you can find the meaning from the context.
- If a long sentence has you confused, reread it and try to put it into your own words.
- If you are having trouble understanding an idea, either read on until the meaning becomes clearer or stop and reread.

Strategies for Multiple-Choice Reading Questions

- Read and reread the question carefully.
- Read the four answers and rule out any answers that are obviously incorrect.
- If necessary, reread the relevant parts of the selection to choose the best or most correct answer.
- Record the answer on the Student Answer Sheet as described in the test instructions.

Strategies for Open-Response Reading Questions

- Read and reread the question carefully.
- Make connections between the ideas and information in the reading selection and your experience.
- Answer the question using specific and relevant details and information from the reading selection.
- Answer in full and correctly written sentences, keeping your answer within the six lines provided.
- Reread your response and correct any errors you notice.
It is important that you follow the instructions and write in the required form. Read the assigned topic for each task carefully before you begin to write. Make sure your work is on-topic and is in the required form.

A. LONG WRITING TASKS

- One of the tasks is writing a news report based on a picture and headline provided. You will make up facts and information to answer the questions Who? What? Where? When? Why? How? and write a one-page report on the event. Your audience is the readers of a newspaper.

Strategies for the News Report

- Look closely at the headline and picture. Think of an event that relates to them.
- Make up the information and facts as you answer some or all of the following questions: Who? What? Where? When? Why? How?
- Pretend you are writing for a newspaper, not for a radio or television station.
- Do not write an advertisement, for example, as that is not the form of writing required.
- Write your report using the third person.

- The other long writing task is a series of paragraphs expressing an opinion on a given topic. You will develop your main idea with supporting details (proof, facts, examples, etc.) and write a minimum of three paragraphs on the two pages provided for your response. Your audience is an adult who is interested in your opinion.

Strategies for the Series of Paragraphs

- Read the topic question and decide what position you will take in your response.
- Clearly state your opinion at the beginning or end of your response.
- Write at least three paragraphs. Include an introduction, a development and a conclusion.
- Support your opinion with reasons and relevant examples or facts.
- Make sure the divisions between paragraphs are clear.

B. SHORT WRITING TASKS

These tasks give you the opportunity to use your knowledge and personal experience while demonstrating your writing skills.

Strategies for the Short Writing Tasks

- Read and reread the question carefully.
- Think of links between the topic and your knowledge and personal experiences.
- Answer the question using specific details and relevant information.
- Answer in full and correctly written sentences, keeping your answer within the six lines provided.
- Reread your response and correct any errors you notice.

C. MULTIPLE-CHOICE QUESTIONS

These multiple-choice questions give you the opportunity to demonstrate the three writing skills.

Strategies for Multiple-Choice Writing Questions

- Read and reread the question carefully.
- Read the four answers and rule out any that are obviously incorrect.
- If necessary, reread the question to choose the best or most correct answer.
- Record the answer on the Student Answer Sheet as described in the test instructions.

An Animator from Scarborough

Over 1500 applications from around the world flood George Lucas’s animation academy each year (Lucas created the Star Wars films), but only four applicants are selected for internships. Randolph Lizarda, 21, from Scarborough, was one of them.

“He’s an excellent student,” said Dave Quesnelle, who teaches animation and is one of Lizarda’s professors. Lizarda stood out after handing in his first assignment, a 10-second action sequence of a muscular circus performer balancing on a ball before jumping through a hoop of fire. This clip was the first segment on the demo reel he submitted to Lucasfilm.

“I had a really good sense of his storytelling. He had the basic principles of animation [but] it was also comical. And that’s our job. Anyone can make a picture move, but to make it entertaining, that’s the craft of an animator.”

As a child, Lizarda liked to draw cartoons. Now he is learning to transfer his drawing ability to the computer.

“I was into [art] when I was little; then I got more into it in high school. In Grade 10, I took one of those career surveys to find out where you fit in. I fit into the animation industry,” he said.

"Thanks for agreeing to talk with me about your successful business," said Nat, shaking hands with Alex.

Alex smiled. "I'm happy to help students with career exploration."

"I have three main questions: How did you get started? What do you like best about being your own boss? And what advice do you have for young entrepreneurs?"

"You are well prepared," said Alex, nodding in approval. "I trained at Blaiseville College."

"How did you go from there to having your own Hair Shop on Wheels?"

"I got the idea after volunteering at my grandfather's seniors' residence. I cut hair and trimmed beards, even styled women's hair, for anyone who couldn't get out to the barber-shop or hairdresser. The residence didn't have space to set up professional equipment, so I thought of a way to bring it all to them. After graduation, I borrowed money from the bank so I could at least afford to buy a van. My brother put in some sweat equity as a mechanic and converted the van into a mobile salon," explained Alex.

Nat was puzzled. "Sweat equity? Your brother gets a share of your profit as payment for his hard work fixing up the van?"

Alex nodded in agreement. "That's the best thing about being my own boss. I can be creative in how I run my business."

"That aspect appeals to me too," said Nat. "What's your best advice for me as an aspiring businessman?"

"Do your research, develop a realistic business plan and focus on your goals."

Lizarda has grown up with an interest in art and was more fascinated by it throughout high school. In grade 10, Lizarda took a survey and found that he would fit into the animation industry as a career. His dream is to work with an animation company, which shows that he wants to be successful in this.

Annotation:
The response provides some details about Lizarda from the selection (took a survey and found that he would fit into the animation industry as a career. His dream is to work with an animation company). However, the reader is required to make the connection among the details, the reason and the internship or the work of an animator.
Lizarda is a beneficial choice for this internship. Almost all his life he has had a passion for art. Already as a child, he began to draw.
